Council Member Chris Moore

Christopher (Chris) Moore is a lifelong resident of Greene County. Chris has served on the Greensboro City Council since 2010 as a City Councilman. He is the son of Grady and Alice Lawrence of Greensboro, Ga., and Charles Moore of Atlanta, Ga. Along with a strong support system with his wife of 25 years, Toby Moore, Chris also gets his strength from his five wonderful children, along with six precious grandchildren. After graduating from Greene-Taliaferro Comprehensive High School in 1991. Chris enlisted in the United States Navy and honorably served his country.

Some achievements that Chris has accomplished along his life's journey include but are not limited to the recipient of Georgia Municipal Association Certificate of Recognition, Georgia Municipal Association Certification of Achievement, and Georgia Municipal Association Certificate of Excellence. Chris is also a graduate of the Robert E. Knox Jr. Municipal Leadership Institute. Outside of municipal government certifications and awards, Chris holds a BS in Organizational Leadership. Chris currently oversees the day-to-day Operations at the Boehringer-Ingelheim Corporation in Athens, GA where he manages the Small Volume Filling Department.

Chris has experience in prioritizing the resources that are available within the community, safeguarding the community through essential planning. A few accomplishments that Chris has been able to achieve while maintaining the title of City Councilman include working with the Recreation Board along with CSX Railroad to provide crossing guards at the Recreation Center, led efforts in implementing a Pit Bull ordinance, led major efforts with Georgia Power with the installation of streetlights on Northeast Street and Apalachee Ave., the renovation of Mary-Leila Cotton Mill which resulted into 72 units of affordable housing and stifled any increases in the Mileage rate.

Chris is an avid music lover and was instrumental in bringing “Motown on Main” to Greensboro. Chris was also instrumental in updating the zoning requirements which helped establish locations for Chick-Fil-A, Burger King, Tru Hotel and Oconee Brewery in Greensboro.

Chris’ mission has always been to put the community first and to serve others in any fashion needed. A few goals that keep Chris motivated are fighting for more affordable housing, creating jobs by both assisting in the expansion of current businesses, as well as recruiting new businesses within the community. Chris has a vested interest in implementing a youth council. Other initiatives important to Chris are improving the existing infrastructure, beautification of the city, and public safety initiatives.

Lastly, Chris sees Greensboro as the one of the most important communities nested between Atlanta and Augusta off I-20. His vision is to ensure that travelers on I-20 have an opportunity to Stop, Shop and Savor all that Greensboro has to offer. Hopefully, our community will be intriguing enough for those that visit to return for an extended stay.
